

Abbots of the Abbey named after its founder St. Coman c.6th Century.

550	A.D.	Coman (Founder) Next notation appears in the annals of the Four Masters at
742&6	A.D.	St. Coman died (believed to be a namesake)
774	A.D.	Forbhasach, son of Maeltoia died.
795	A.D.	Aeldobhar died.
811	A.D.	Joseph, the learned scribe, died.
813	A.D.	Sedulius, Abbot and Bishop, died.
816	A.D.	Seidal, Bishop died.
828	A.D.	Joseph, son of Nechtain, died.
835	A.D.	Ceallach, son of Forbasach, Erenagh was slain.
872	A.D.	Aodh, the learned and venerable scribe, died.
914	A.D.	Martin, died.
925or8	A.D.	Dubhall, died.
964	A.D.	Cormac O’Kellane, of great learning and benevolence died.
979	A.D.	Murahadh Mac Riada, died.
1025	A.D.	Murabadh Mac Mughron, of the family of Imla Fordaragh, died
1043	A.D.	Aedan Connachtach, died.
1052	A.D.	Echtigharn Ua Eaghraín, died on a pilgrimage at Clonard.
1093	A.D.	O. Scoptha. Died.
1097	A.D.	Flanagan Roe O’Duffy, and Aedan, a learned professor died.
1132	A.D.	Tipraid O’Brien, died while on pilgrimage to Inis Clothrúinn, now known as The Quaker’s Island.
1135	A.D.	O’Finaghty, died.
1152	A.D.	Gilla na naemh O’Fallen, died
1155	A.D.	Fearghal O’Finaghty, priest of the noble family of Donamon, died.
1200	A.D.	Malone O’Cormacan, died.
1266	A.D.	Maelisa O’Hannain, Prior, died. Now nothing until
1444	A.D.	Thady McDermott.
1472	A.D.	Theobald Burke, a Dominican Friar was by special bull of Pope Sixtus VI, made Prior of St. Coman’s Abbey. There appears to be no further record until 1615 A.D.